“HEAR OUR VOICES” tackles the topic of BULLYING!!
“looking through the lenses of different perspectives (mother, friend, victim), this production focuses on a bullying incident and the tragic outcome that ripples through a community.”

Due to the sensitive nature of this topic, this performance is limited to high school students and adults.

Al Nunez Jr. has written, directed and produced theatrical productions since the early 1990s. A graduate of Cal Poly-SLO Theater Program, Al has worked with local agencies to support age-appropriate learning using theater as the venue.

“HEAR OUR VOICES” is the second project this director has written in partnership with the Community Action Partnership of San Luis Obispo. In 1993, he developed another play with a co-writer to promote AIDS Awareness and responsible behavior, which was performed throughout California in high schools and public venues.
